

16 October 2010

To whom it may concern

On behalf of hospice South Canterbury it gives me great pleasure to recommend Sheryl Higgs and Alistair Bradley personally, as the duo Double Talk and as part of the four piece band Fusion to any prospective employer.

Hospice has had many dealings with Sheryl and Alistair over the years with all entertainment contracts being met to the highest of standards. They are brilliant musicians which is reflected throughout their top class professional performances.

Personally they are very generous people and have a strong empathy towards Hospice. They are always willing to assist and offer support, skills and advice towards events even on occasions when they are not involved as performers.

Annually we hold a Wine and Food Festival, which is a major fundraiser for Hospice. The event attracts around 4000 people and is the biggest festival of this type to be held in South Canterbury. Last year we were fortunate enough to have Fusion perform, the crowd loved them many preferring Fusion over our main head liner act for the day. They have also performed as both Fusion and Double Talk at our annual Mid Winter Ball over the year. This is another major fundraiser for hospice and a marked event on many social calenders throughout the region.

I would have no hesitation in recommending Sheryl, Alistair, Double Talk or Fusion them to any prospective employer they are top professional entertainers and true crowd pleasers. Sheryl has a very warm and inviting personality with an outstanding ability to interact with very large audiences.

Should you require any further information please contact me as I would have absolutely no hesitation in expanding on this.

Yours Faithfully

Karen McCrostie
Funding Manager

